STATE GOVERNMENT

STATE EMPLOYMENT

Under current law, when advertising an open position in the classified civil service, the state may not require as a condition of application that the applicant be a college graduate unless the position advertised requires a license, permit, certificate, or other credential that a person may not acquire without a college degree.

Under this bill, when advertising an open position as a forensic scientist in a state or regional crime laboratory, the state may require as a condition of application that the applicant be a college graduate.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. 230.14 (3m) of the statutes is amended to read:

230.14 (3m) In advertising openings in the classified civil service, the state may not require as a condition of application that an applicant be a college graduate unless the opening is a position as a forensic scientist in a state or regional crime laboratory or unless the opening must be filled by an incumbent holding a credential, as defined in s. 440.01 (2) (a), or other license, permit, certificate or registration in an occupation regulated by law and college graduation is required to obtain the occupational credential, license, permit, certificate or registration.

Peter,

XX Please review this draft to ensure that it is consistent with your intent. Please note that I did not amend the definition of a "credential" <sup>in</sup> s. 440.01 (2), Wis. Stats., because the definitions in chapter 440 apply to chapters 440 to 480, generally, and a forensic scientist is not issued a license or otherwise regulated by those chapters.

Please also note that the term "forensic scientist" is not defined in this bill and is not used elsewhere in the statutes. If there is a more precise term, or if you would like to define the term in another version of this draft, please let me know.
